Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia – 15 July 2005 – Beukhen International, a leading Asia Pacific-based provider of receivables management and contact centre outsourcing services since 1989, announces the naming of Boe S. Gill as CEO of the company. This announcement, made public at its recent Corporate Identity Rebranding Reception and Flo2Cash™ outsourcing model introductions, is part of Beukhen's marketplace outreach, with a serious emphasis on its business process outsourcing services. In addition, past CEO and company founder, Jarnail S. Gill, was named to the post of Executive Chairman of Beukhen International.

"I am pleased to name Boe Gill as our new CEO", states Jarnail S. Gill, previous CEO and now Executive Chairman of Beukhen. "Boe's distinguished tenure as COO of Beukhen has vaulted the company to strong presence and growth in the Asia Pacific marketplace", adds Gill, "and many of his previous responsibilities made it natural to provide him the title to better reflect his overall contribution and role in the company. Boe has been very instrumental in guiding our company into its current outsourcing leadership position with his acumen with the business processes related to receivables and recovery management".

Boe S. Gill has been with Beukhen International (previously known as Beukhen & Pokhrell) in various business development, operations and executive capacities for almost ten years.
